

anna lancaster fine art

artist statement

The mystery of God's creation is my inspiration and creativity is one of His most precious gifts to humanity. I'm compelled to create and rejoice in the majesty that surrounds me in life and nature; on location where it's happening, en plein air and in my home studio. With a celebration of color and texture, I excitedly render in a free representational style. I express beauty of nature I observe that fights to survive in a tumultuous world. I accept the challenge to honor the alluring magnificence of our world through my gift of oil painting with dedication and joy.

mission statement

Oil paintings of textured beauty that beckon to be seen and touched and touch you back.

artist bio

Anna Lancaster was born in New Jersey and moved to Oregon in 1991, at the same time she made the decision to shift her career focus from graphic illustration and design to professional fine artist.

anna lancaster - textured plein air & more

The artist enjoys diverse styles of creative expression including portraiture, contemporary still life and plein air landscape, painting in oils. Anna has expanded her painting disciplines to paint from live observation, whenever possible. She has recently been invited to several prestigious juried plein air competitions, including Pacific NW Plein Air and the Lake Oswego Plein Air. She currently exhibits her work at the Marilyn Affolter Gallery in McMinnville, Oregon and is a long time member of the Emerald Art Center in Springfield, Oregon.

Anna thinks of herself as a beautiful art revivalist. She markets her work under the auspices of her company, Anna Lancaster Fine Art. She has sold and exhibited in Oregon since 1995.

Anna works and resides with her family in Tualatin, Oregon.

annalancasterfineart.com